

BITS AND PIECES

Memories are most often simple scraps of what our highly selective minds decide are worth keeping like long ago torn notes to ourselves or an image that has outlived its value to most but clings to us persistently or fading color swatches or fabric shreds or the still rumped remains of sheet music readable and also meaningful now only through our own personal lens on the past with all of these bits and pieces acting as triggers to remember what was or might have been or still is always

Bits And Piece® 2026
Judy Wood/ Photography
<https://www.instagram.com/abrushwithangels/>
Jon Trovato/Poetry