

THE DETERMINED

There is joy in late Fall despite the preponderance of endings with colors often far more spectacular than those that arrive in Spring briefly so in truth but when coupled with the very soon to be cold temperatures our kind tend to gather indoors to give thanks as well as to reinforce friendships along with family ties every year even in the face of ongoing political threats to undo what we hold dear through dunning lies that are right now fully inspiring the determined among us to cast votes on this coming Tuesday in record numbers to ensure the proven truths of this Democracy will remain thoroughly/tenaciously preserved
